A LITTLE BIT ABOUT ME.

I am a hard working, highly motivated and results driven designer who thrives in creativity and critical thinking and is always in search of my next project.

I enjoy keeping myself busy and thinking, bringing the most out of my projects, real or fictional by constantly putting theory into practice - taking in all of the inspiration around me in my day to day life using each day as a learning process to better myself.

This has allowed me to constantly sharpen the skills and creative flair I have honed for years, meaning I am always able to get the best possible quality and potential out of my work whilst always thinking of ways I can do better and grow as a designer.

Work I am proud of

Designing the logo and branding for a film distribution company and having that work shown in cinema's and promo's across the country and seen online by millions.

Designing a successful local hot sauce brand and having that brand be a shirt sponsor for a county level ice hockey team.
